

Source: <http://www.greenpartynm.org/about.php#aboutanchor>

Adopted May 2002

7-2-B Presidential Nominating Convention:

In years in which the national party holds a Presidential Nominating Convention, at the regular annual convention held in March or at a state nominating convention held in accordance with the bylaws, the Green Party shall elect the number of delegates to the Presidential Nominating Convention prescribed by the national committee. The delegation should select a chair from among its membership.

In addition, in years in which the Party is not considered a Major Party, the convention shall conduct an election for candidates for the President of the United States. All candidates who have declared their candidacy for the office of President shall be included on the ballot. None of the Above shall also appear on the ballot. The delegation to the Presidential nominating convention shall cast votes in proportion to the results of the election. After the first ballots cast at the nominating convention, each delegate may vote according to his or her wishes after an attempt to reach a consensus decision with the entire delegation